JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., Jan. 30.-Repre JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., Jan. 30.—Representative Buckner's address in favor of his telephone bill, although strong and logical, fell fiat in the House Committee on Private Corporations. A special order had been made for the consideration of of Buckner's bill, and Col. W. H. Phelps had promised that Manager George F. Durant would be here. John H. Carroll was on the ground, as were Phelps and Flanagan, but not a word did any of them have to say in reply to Buckner nor the committee give not a word did any or them have to say in reply to Buckner nor the committee give the slightest intimation that they would do anything for the promotion of this line of legislation. Buckner will force the matter to an issue in the House, but the sup-porters of the telephone interest are follow-ing closely the lead of the railroad passing closely the lead of the railroad pass-bearing contingent in giving harmless meas-ures the right of way. Not a single cor-poration interest, except the insurance com-panies, who have no lobby here, has been the subject of attack in a restrictive meas-ure. The effects of Promoter Comfort's visits are already showing on the surface. Representative Phipps also made an ad-dress to the same committee on a still more radical measure than Buckner's, but even this did not elicit a word in defense, al-though Carroll was in the corridors of the Capitol and could not possibly have been ignorant of what was pending. Buckner says it is the committee's inten-tion to give the telephone interests a hear-ing in his absence, and if they do he will expose the whole plan of campaign on the floor.

FIRST SUBWAY BILL.

Representative Spencer of St. Louis introduced the first subway bill of the session. It provides for the construction of conduits by all cities over 20,000, or that such cities may let contracts for such construction with privilege of leasing the same at completion and free use for police and fire siarm wires, also that such cities may compel burial of the wires. A resolution was introduced by McCullom of Ripley to drop from the House Committee on Private Corporations one superfluous Republican member. It was aimed at Walton of St. Louis, who had forced himself on the committee by a ruse, the nature of which has aiready been explained in these columns. Mr. Drabelle objected to the announcement of the vote to table—ayes 54 to 42 nays—but Acting-Speaker Swanger overruled him and the vote was allowed to stand.

Mr. Davidson introduced a stupid resolution based on the defeat of the sheep killing-dog measure yesterday, and it was tabled in a spirit of seriousness that was a severe backset to the would-be humorist who offered it.

Dr. Pettijohn introduced a joint and concurrent resolution, prepared by H. Martin Williams, instructing Senators Vest and Cockrell and requesting Missouri's representatives in Congress to support Dr. Bar-

Williams, instructing permissions of the Cockrell and requesting Missouri's representatives in Congress to support Dr. Barthold's bill to create a commission to investigate the contamination of the Illinois River with Chicago sewage.

WON BY THE RAILWAYS.

The Committee on Internal Improvements reported adversely on Tubbs bill reducing the fare on railroads from 4 cents and 3 cents to 3½ cents and 2½ cents, and on motion to print, notwithstanding, fully a third of the members dodged the vote, including Drabelle, Tatum and Walton of St. Louis and Johnson of St. Louis County. This was the first real test vote on the railroad question, and the grand stand performers on both sides showed their cowardice in the usuai fashion. Even Acting Speaker Swanger dodged. After the vote was announced Drabelle said he did not understand the vote and switched, but the clerk called his name twice and he did not even look up.

SCHOOL TEACHERS' PENSIONS.
Representative Davidson made a vigorous attack on the St. Louis School Board teachers' pension measure for no other reason apparently than to demonstrate his enmity for Mr. Drabelle, its author.

The bill was vigorusly defended by Messrs. Drabelle and Avery, who very emphatically denied Davidson's charge that this bill was but the forerunner of a demand for an appropriation.

Drabelle and Avery, who very emphatically denied Davidson's charge that this bill was but the forerunner of a demand for an appropriation.

Mr. Avery declared that a charge was an unwarranted assumption of the absolute ignorance of the succeeding Legislature. The issue between the friends and opponents of the measure was whether contributions of the teachers to the fund were to be voluntary or otherwise.

Dr. Tubbs held that they were compulsory. Moran informed him that the ruling of the courts had invariably been that where the word "shall" occurs in a statute affecting the rights of third parties it is always to be construed "may."

Mr. Spencer declared that the bill did not contemplate the appropriation of a single dollar from the State Treasury.

The bill proposed simply that a sum not exceeding 1 per cent of the salaries of the teachers be set aside as a pension fund. There was no opposition whatever from St. Louis or among the St. Louis members to this measure.

Moran said the Committee on Municipal Corporations had unanimously commended this measure as one of the best that had been before the assembly, if anyone in St. Louis attempted to use the proposed law for an improper purpose the people of St. Louis would be the first to apprise the Legislature of that fact. The measure ought to become a law without delay.

The previous question was put and the bill was sent to engressment by an almost unanimous vote, Mr. Davidson alone voting "no."

Representative Phipps' bill taxing the large department stores 50 for each extra line carried, which was laid on the table yesterday, was reconsidered. Phipps claims he will now be able to get the measure passed.

HEAD CUT OFF.

An Unknown Man Found on the Railroad Tracks.

An unknown man was run over and killed by a train in the upper bridge yards in East St. Louis last night or early this morning.
The body was found by switchmen about 9
a. m., and was removed to Bennet's morgue, on Collinaville avenue. The head was completely severed and, strangely enough, the body was not otherwise bruised or mutilated in the least, which gives the case a very mysterious phase, as it is a matter of conthat of a fairly well-to-do man, probably a thrifty artisan.

Notification was sent to Coroner Campbell, who lives at Marissa and cannot get to East St. Louis before evening. A search of the clothing on the body was made by the undertakers, but no papers of any kind were found. There was a small old-fashioned watch in one of the pockets which had stopped at 7:45. The undertakers who examined the body were at a loss to explain the man's death, but were inclined to the theory that he had comitted suicide by placing his head on a rail in front of a train.

LONDON, Jan. 30.—There is but a limited number of London bankers having considerable dealings with the United States and although I have had conversations with many leading financiers to-day upon the President's message. Most of them declined to permit public use of their names in discussing it, on the ground that they had not properly studied the financial questions there. Three questions were asked of them, however, and there was no material difference in any of the answers.

no other course would be open to the President if Lie gold reserve was much further depleted. Whatever might be the loss to the American people in Sterest charge, it would not be commensurate to the loss of national credit, which would follow their obvious inability or actual failure to redeem every mational obligation in gold.

To the question whether long-term bonds at 3 per cent could be placed in Europe, the equally unanimous answer was that not only three hundred millions but five hundred millions would find a ready market here if explicitly promising to pay in gold. "But," I asked, "suppose that in the meantime for lack of ready gold, or whatever other reason, we should begin paying our obligations in silver?"

To this the answer was that it would grievously injure our credit and we should have to pay a measurably higher interest then now.

the sole active mancier who supports illmetallism in Farliament, was not less empartic.

"a only skimmed through the report of the message." said Sir Samuel, "and therefore I do not like to venture a decided opinion upon it in all its bearings. In my views, America could supply all her wants any time she chooses in England—in which case stock should be inscribed—or a 31-4 gold loan in America. In the latter event investors here would subscribe for stock largely and America would, of course, get gold in payment for it."

"What do you think would be the effect of payment in sliver?"

"I consider," he said, "that it would be the greatest folly imaginable."

At this point Sir Samuel's partner, who was sitting at another desk, interjected the observation:

"I was asking Goschen what he thought would be the result if it were proposed to pay in sliver, and he said that if America did that she would not be able to pay the first instalment falling due on the first mortgages on her railway stock."

Mr. Goschen is head of the house of Fruhling & Goschen, and brother of the ex-Chancellor of the Exchequer.

"I am a bi-metallist," continued Sir Samuel; "but, as I have said, a resort to a loan payable in sliver would be madness. The only condition under which it should be feasible would be under an international agreement with the principal European countries. Otherwise, if America adopted the sliver standard singly, other countries would be swamped in a very short time.

That would be ruin to American credit and trade. A gold loan under the conditions I have mentioned would be the best way of dealing with the situation."

John Baring of Baring Bros. said:

When asked if she would swear out a warrant against Mrs. Cuddy, Mrs. Barnes said:

"Oh, no; I would not go into court with that trash again."

Mrs. Froehly, Mrs. Barnes' mother, joined in the conversation at this point.

"I had to take my daughter away from that man," she said. "She did not tell us how he was treating her but we learned it from the neighbors and brought her home, else the would have been killed.

At Mrs. Allens' house Mr. Barnes and Mrs. Cuddy were found going over the details. When the reporter entered the rear door and asked those assembled about the matter Mrs. Cuddy said:

She was given an ammrative answer.

"Then you can get right out of here, she said placing her hands on the reporter's shoulder and pushing him to the door. She was not in earnest, however, for her tongue kept up a rattle like a mill clapper, so fast that it would be impossible to have taken what she said down even in shorthand.

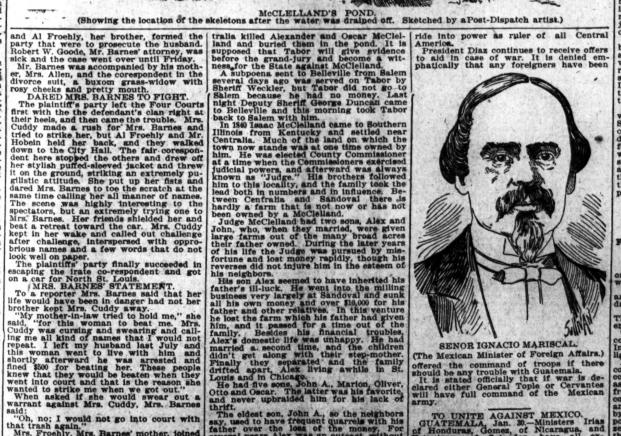

"I went there to get even with that woman," she rattled on, because she had branded me in her divorce case. She said I was living with that man, pointing to Mr. Barnes, "and she lies," I wanted to lick her, but she would not come out of the crowd. Simply because I came here to do washing for Mr. Barnes, mother, as I had often done before, she brings that charge against me.

BALLARD SMITH,

THE FOREIGN VIEW.

Special Cable to the Post-Dispatch.

(Copyright, 1805, by the Press Pub. Co.)

LONDON, Jan. 30.—The Paris correspondent of the World and Post-Dispatch telegraphs that M. Hellman, representing the Seligmans, is very sure that a 3 per cent loan would be taken up with avidity by capitalists and small rentiers of Western Europe, as an equally safe and desirable investment with English consols. Ha believes that this loan should be placed in Europe.

The present situation must lead all European investors in United States securities of any sort to consider whether it would not be wiser to realize upon them promptly, even at a less, than to expose themselves to payment in depreciated currency. Your Government, to save all its industrial enterprises from such disaster as would follow a forced sale of all European investments, must at once restore confidence concerning its capacity to meet its engagements in currency acceptable to the markets of the world. In view of the absence of an international agreement fixing the ratio of gold to silver, there must be a clear determination by the United States Government that all obligations, public or private, shall be paid in gold.

tion by the United States Government that all obligations, public or private, shall be paid in gold.

"Reconstruction of the monetary system of the United States should be studied at once by a committee of experts composed of prominent bankers, members of chambers of commerce and others familiar with the general subject and the needs of the people.

"Meanwhile, in order to meet the present exigency, a foreign loan seems an imperative necessity. I cannot believe the Government will allow its credit to be jeopardized, but will take prompt action to prevent European investors from hasty action in sacrificing their American investments. It must be remembered that European capital was a most important if not indispensable factor in developing the enterprises of the United States. As matters are, that capital now refuses to risk further investment. Money which is now very abundant in the capitals of Europe would promptly go to the United States if confident as to the future of its currency system. But it is absurd for a stranger to discuss a solution of your currency problem. The immediate opinion of an expert committee should be insisted upon."

Cleveland Means to Act Without the Co-Operation of Congress.

Operation of Congress.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 30.—The temper of the silver men in the Senate and the defiant attitude of the silver men in the Finance Committee offer an almost insurmountable bar to any legislation between now and March 4. Unless there is a decided change in the situation—and under the circumstances this is hard to foresee—this Congress will probably adjourn without enacting any law giving the Secretary of the Treasury needed authority to maintain the Government credit.

But the President is prepared to act, and act speedily, unless he receives some tangible assurance that his appeal for aid will not be in vain. If his suggestions are not accepted and the raid on the Treasury gold continues, a loan of $100,000,000 at 4 per cent, to run thirty years, probably will be authorized. Mr. Cleveland is determined not to issue any more bonds on a ten-year basis. Before the close of this week it is not unlikely that Mr. Cleveland will make known his intentions as to maintaining the reserve. Under the act of July 14, 1870, it is within the power of the Secretary of the Treasury not only to issue ten-year 5 per cent bonds such as has been floated, but also to negotiate bonds payable at the pleasure of the Government after fifteen years from the date of their issue, bearing interest at 4½ per cent, and also bonds running thirty years, bearing 4 per cent. There is no doubt that the President has been seriously conyears, bearing 4 per cent. There is no doubt that the President has been seriously considering the propriety of issuing these thirty year 4 per cent bonds in the event of Congress failing to respond to his demands. It is the understanding that Secretary Carlisle has received offers to take $100,000,000 of these bonds, and if Congress does not respond a loan of this character and of this amount will be floated. Mr. Cleveland in his message indicated very clearly that he would take this course. He intimated very strongly that there was doubt in his mind as to whether bonds such as were issued for the last two loans could be sold to advantage.

min as to whether bonds such as were issued for the last two loans could be sold to advantage.

Such a policy on the part of the President is being rapidly forced by the continued drain at New York and Boston. The withdrawals yesterday aggregated $3,149,000, reducing the reserve to $48,616,193. Of the amount taken out, $3,066,000 was demanded at New York. It comes from trustworthy authority that Mr. Cleveland has made up his mind that the reserve cannot be allowed with safety to fall below $40,000,000. As soon as the balance approaches this danger point, ther is every reason to believe that proposals for $100,000,000 of thirty-year 4 per cent bonds will be issued. If the advices from New York as to the probable export of gold on Saturday next are confirmed, such a bond issue is almost certain to be decided upon within the next week. With the President entertaining these convictions there is little likelihood c2 the Government being forced to a susgension of specie payments under his administration.

ikelihood of the Government being forced to a susgension of specie payments under his administration.

Such a bond issue as Mr. Cleveland has in mind can be averted only by prompt action by Congress. The harmony displayed at to-day's meeting of the House Banking Committee offers some slight encouragement that the lower branch at least will not prove unresponsive to his appeals. Everything depends on the effort to unite the Republicans and the anti-silver Democrats. If the action of the Republican members of the committee is any criterion as to what attitude the Republicans will take as a party, there is good reasons to expect that a combination can be arranged. If the anti-silver Democrats can muster anywhere near the strength they developed in the repeal fight, a bul can be passed by the House. But the Banking Committee is working along non-partisan lines in the hope that something will come of their efforts.

St. Louis Physicians Testify That the How Two YoungMen Robbed a Second

The depositions of Dr. Edward Borck, of 4112 North Grand avenue, and Dr. William 4112 North Grand avenue, and Dr. William H. Bond, of $501 Lindell avenue, were taken before Notary James C. Webb, in the famous Fraker insurance case to be tried a second time before Judge Philips in Kansas City, in February. The physicians averred that they operated upon Dr. George W. Fraker January 28, 1884, and that he was a perfect man. The defendant insurance companies contend that the so-called Dr. Fraker was a woman and therefore his insurance politics, amounting to $50,000, are invalid. The operation was performed at that their exact position could be determined at any time by two stumps which rose above the water.

The burial was done in a very careful and thorough manner. Plenty of time seems to have been taken in putting the bodies away and in covering evidences of the crime. This part of the work gould hardly have been done at night, as it must have necessitated working in 3 feet of water. The placing of the bodies so near the stumps indicates that the work of securing the bodies in place was done at several different times. The pond is located a short distance back of the house which was occupied by John A. McClelland at the time the burial is supposed to have occurred. It is out of sight of the road which runs past the McClelland homestead, and the farm being off the main road, the travel in front of it is light. So far as the remains showed anything by which his bones might be identified, they tallied with what might have been expected of the skeletons of Alex and Oscar McClelland twelve years after life had passed from them.

After the bodies were found, the Coroner held an inquest to determine the idenjity of the skeletons and the cause of death. The public at once concluded that the bones were those of the McClellands—father and son—and that they had been murdered and then concealed in the pond. But who committed the crime? This was asked only in whispers.

SAYS IT'S A LIE. Cabor Denies That He Ever Made Such a Confession.

CENTRALIA, Ill., Jan. 20.—Wesley Tabor is a long haired individual, somewhat after the desperado style, who has figured in a number of petty crimes. It is not thought here that he had nerve enough to kill anybody. He seemed to delight in bearing the reputation of being a dangerous man, and whenever a mysterious murder was committed in this community it was always laid at his door. The story told by Tabor's divorced wife to the effect that he made a confession when at the point of death, is, according to Tabor, a lie, and done for spite. He claims he has never been near enough dead to confess anything. He says he knows nothing about the McClelland murder.

Tabor will go before the Grand Jury today. Mrs. Tabor is a member of the Salvation army.

"SQUASH IT, JUDGE!"

Herman Noack's Amusing Appeal to Judge Morris.

Judge Morris.

Herman Moack, who lives at 6023 Lorretta avenue, created quite a laughable scene in Judge Morris' court Tuesday afternoon at a late hour. Moack's house was, so he claims, entered twice by burglars who forced open his front door, and he determined to put a stop to it. He got a revolver and laid in wait. On the night of January 17 last he was arrested by Officer Dillon, of the mounted district, charged with carrying concealed weapons. His wife balled him out, and on January 28 the case came up for trial before Judge Morris. Moack wanted a continuance but he was told to wait awhile. Instead he went to a neighboring saloon, got feeling good, and then went home. His bond was forfeited. On Tuesday he came into court to have the bond forfeiture set aside. To the court he said: "Your honor, when a man's in trouble he will drink sometimes. That's how I got left on the risl." "Well," said Judge Morris, "we'll have to set the case again."

Judge morris, we'll exclaimed Moack as he again."
"Don't do that," exclaimed Moack as he threw up both hands. "Squash it judge! Squash it! I'll pay the whole bill."
The court officials burst out laughing, and Moack, thinking he had asked too much, said: "Well, if you can't squash it judge do the best you can," and Moack paid the costs and walked out of court.

Whom Dynamite Does Not Scare.

BROOKLYN, Jan. 30.—Williamsburg got another fright last night with an alleged brand new patent dynamite, giant powder and table sait bomb. It was found in the middle of a car track at Franklin and Milton streets. It had a copper top with holes in it, and two wires came out of the two holes. It was about a foot long and four inches in diameter. It was conveyed to the Green Point Station, where the cover was taken off and some gray matter found inside. The police elapped it in water without a moment's delay. There is no doubt but the caps on the wires were genuine. It will be taken to police headquarters to-day and presented to Supt. Campbell, who, following the usual course, will send it to the navy yard. They have a fearless blacksmith at the navy yard, who breaks open svery alleged bomb with a sledge hammer, and has never yet been hurt.

ture by the Governor.

STATE OF MISSOURI,
Executive Department,
JEFFERSON CITY, Jan. 30, 1895.
To the Senate and House of Representatives:
Under the provisions of section 5,803 of the Revised Statutes it is made the duty of the Superintendent of the Insurance Department, on or before the second Monday in February in each year, or as soon thereafter as practicable, to make a report to the Legislature, if the same be in session, otherwise to the Governor, to be forwarded by him to the Legislature, etc.

The report made by the Superintendent in 1894 of his department for the preceding year was made to me, and the same has been printed and distributed. A copy of that report is herewith transmitted to the General Assembly, through the Senate. This is done simply to conform to the requirements of the statute, but as it has been already printed I suggest there will be no necessity of having it made part of the journal.

The report of the operations of the department for the year 1894 will be made by the Superintendent directly to the General Assembly as soon as the same can be completed.

By reference to the last blennial report of STATE OF MISSOURI, ment for the year 18% will be made by the Superintendent directly to the General Assembly as soon as the same can be completed.

By reference to the last blennial report of the State Auditor it will be seen that the amount of State revenue collected from foreign insurance companies during the year 1893 amounted to 3107.918.47, and for the year 1894 to the sum of 3123.297.99, making a total for the two years of 2321.216.46. During the two previous years, 1891-2, the State taxes collected from such companies, as shown by the Auditor's report, amounted te 3179.628.04. This shows an increase in the last two years of 251.588.42.

I desire to say that Hon. James R. Waddill, who has had charge of this department during the last two years, has administered its affairs with the highest degree of efficiency.

I also herewith transmit to the General Assembly, by way of the Senate, the first annual report made to me by the Excise Commissioner of the City of St. Louis. This office was created by an act passed by the Thirty-seventh General Assembly, and has now been in operation about eighteen months. The report herewith transmitted is for the year ending July 3, 1894. It shows that the total tax, both State and municipal, collected during the year reported, amounted to 31,229,688.91. Of this the city license tax imposed on dramshops collected amounted to $80,105.56. Thus it will be seen that under the administration of Excise Commissioner Bell the sum of $150,763.06 more city license taxes were collected than were collected on that account the previous year. This result is all the more gratifying in view of the fact that it was not occasioned by an increase in the number of saloons; but, on the contrary, the Commissioner reports a very decided decrease in the number of saloons over those running the year before. He states that during the year he fore. but, on the contrary, the Commissioner reports a very decided decrease in the number of saloons over those running the year before. He states that during the year he "closed up about 300 saloons for non-payment of licenses and for keeping disorderly places." An increase of $150,763 in revenue, with a decrease of $00 in the number of saloons, is conclusive proof that the act creating the office of Excise Commissioner was wise and timely, and the result is highly creditable to the administration of the Commissioner. A comparison of the amount of State license taxes collected during the two years referred to is not made because in 1893 the Legislature passed a law increasing the State license tax above what it was the year before. While it is true that the State has been equally as much benefited as the city by the excise law and its administration, the increase in the State license tax referred to makes a comparison between the collections of the two years more difficult. The city license tax was the same both years.

Although not required by the law to for-Although not required by the law to forward this report to the General Assembly, I do so nonetheless in the belief that it con-tains information of value to your honorable body.

REGISTRATION REVISION. Lieut.-Gov. O'Meara's Ideas as Set Out

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., Jan. 30.—Lieut. Gov. O'Meara's ideas for revision of the reg-istration and election laws have been em-bodied in a bill introduced this morning by Senator Morton.

istration and election laws have been embodied in a bill introduced this morning by Senator Morton.

Its principal features are the presentation of the certificate of registration containing the voter's description as a condition precedent to his being permitted to vote, and complete new registration every two years, beginning the first Monday in January. Repeating is made a felony. The board of revision is to be appointed by the Recorder of Voters, who is to be the presiding officer and it is to be composed of one member from each ward, and to be divided equally politically. Revision shall be for forty days and review for ten days. The action of such board of revision and reviews shall not be subject to any review by any other tribunal. Publication of names of those stricken off shall be made in one English and one German paper three days before the board of review begins its work.

Mr. Love's cigarette bill was sent to engrossment. It imposes a State tax on retailers of $1,000 a year, with provision that the cities and counties may impose a tax equal to that levied by the State.

An amendment was added that the proceeds of the State tax shall be paid into the seminary fund for the benefit of the State University.

stockholders. Similar proceedings will be had in each state where the trust owns property.

The reason assigned for wanting receivers was that the company was being pressed to pay its debts and had no funds to meet the demands. It was represented, among other things, that on Feb. I almost $1,000,000 in rebates would fail due, and unless they were paid promptly the various distilleries would be attached and their earning capacity greatly reduced. The rebates mentioned are due to wholesale dealers in whisky, who enter into contracts that they will buy no liquor except that made by the trust. The whisky is charged to them at a certain rate, and if, at the end of six months, it is found that wholesalers have handled nothing but trust whisky they are allowed a rebate of from 3 cents to 5 cents a gallom. These rebates are due Feb. 1, and according to the bill presented to Judge Grosscup the company has no money to pay them.

Replying to the criticism of his proceedings in the appointment of receivers for the trust, Judge Grosscup said in an interview to-day that the matter was conducted in regular form. Both factions of the concern, he said, were represented at the hearing. There was no attempt at suppressing the proceedings, Judge Grosscup declared, as the papers were on file in regular form all day Tuesday and could have been seen by any one who desired to do so.

PORIA, Ill., Jah. 30.—The bill, bond and order of court in the Distilling and Cattle Feeding Company Receivership case were received by mail this morning at 8 o'clock by Enoch P. Sloan, Clerk of the United States Court at e-Poria, from 8. W. Burnham, clerk at Chicago, and Mr. Sloan immediately proceeded to make the proper entry in his records. He says there is no irregularity whatever. The suit is numbered and filed in regular order. Vice President Beggs of the Distilling and Cattle Feeding Company is the only official in town and he has nothing to say.

THE NEWS IN NEW YORK.

NEW YORK, Jan. 30.—John I Waterbury, a member of the stockholders' protective committee of Distillers, said to-day that it was his opinion and that of the compjany that the recivers were but temporarily appointed and that the court would give a hearing on the appointment of permanent receivers. Owing to the absence of counsel and one of the committee in the West, the receivers. Owing to the absence of counsel and one of the committee in the West, the circular which was promised stockholders will probably not be out to-day. Mr. Waterbury expressed himself as confiedent that the court would recognize a majority of the stock as against 1,700 share which secured the receivership.

It is reported that the stockholders protective committee has instructed its counsel, Messrs. Bifur and Mayer, to apply for the removal of the receivers, and it is believed that notice of such a motion will be given at once, the ground to be alleged therein being that the receivers were appointed without any necessity for such action, and merely to subserve the personal purposes of the present management of the company.

pointed without any necessity for such action, and merely to subserve the personal purposes of the present management of the company.

The three persons who nominally instituted the receivership proceedings are John F. Olmstead, Charles Heinsheimer and L. and S. L. Wormser, clerks in the office of P. J. Goodhart & Co., brokers of this city. The Wormser in question has no compection with the firm of I. & S. Wormser, who have been in close relations with President Greenhut.

ON THE STREET.

Judge Grosscup's action is severely criticized in the street. It is claimed that the appointment of the receivers was made at his home, after the regular court hours, and that he officers of the court connived at the suppression of the news for a day and one-half. The fact that he appointed as one of the receivers the man who is charged with wrecking the company and, as the other, the partner of a man who has entered suit against the company for $500,000 is commented upon unfavorably. It is believed that the receivers will order the temporary closing of the trust's distilleries.

It is very evident that operators in the confidence of the Greenhut party in Distilling discounted the receivership affair yesterday in selling down the stock 1% per cent to 8, a closing rally bringing the price up to 5%. At the opening this morning a deciline of % per cent took place, with a further loss of ¼ to 7% and a rally to 8%. There has been no special flurry in the stock this morning, the sales up to 11 o'clock aggregating only 11,000 shares and the fluctuations being within %. The lowest figure touched supporting orders was found in the market and it would seem to be the policy of the Greenhut interests to prevent any serious break by reason of the appointment of Greenhut and Lawrence as receivers was not known outside of the clique until long after the close of business on the Stock Exchange. On the streets this morning the coup devetat is the subject of general discussion, and the action which the protective committee will take on the proc declaring that the Guatemalan claim is so preposterous that it can not be for a moment sufertained. Minister Mariscal, however, intimates that, if the claim were to be materially modified, Mexico might leave to friendly arbitration the question of the damages she has already sustained.

It is understood that Scoretary Gresham has advised Guatemala to make further concessions, in order that the United States may be in a better position to reiterate to Mexico, with possibly more emphasis, the desire of this Government to preserve peace. He is still in telegraphic correspondence with the Mexican authorities, as well as those of Guatemala, touching the settlement of the dispute between the two nations, and has not yet absandoned hope of a peaceful outcome. The status of this affair at present is that the Guatemalan Government does not wish to go to war, and is willing to make almost any honorable concession to avoid it. The Mexicans are not in the same conciliatory mood, but the Government would probably accept as a basis of settlement what could be shown to the satisfaction of the people to be in the line of the maintenance of their claims. There is ground for the belief that the indemnity of $253,000 demanded by Mexico for the invasion of the Chiapas territory is causing the main difficulty.

KALBFELL'S CASE.

Judge Dillon Hears the Quo Warranto Proceedings.

The quo warranto proceedings in the case of the State for the use of David J. case of the State for the use of David J. Collins, a master plumber and a tax-payer, against Theodore D. Kaibfell occupied the attention of Judge Dillon at the opening of court. Kaibfell was cited to appear and show by what authority he claims to hold the office of Supervisor of Plumbing for the city of St. Louis. Kaibfell was appointed by the President of the Board of Public Improvements on Nov. 28, 1894. The appointment was attacked on the ground that Kaibfell was in arrears of taxes for 1894, when the appointment was made and that he was not qualified by training and experience to design and execute plumbing work.

he was not qualified by training and experience to design and execute plumbing work.

When depositions were about to be taken Commissioner C. Claffin Allen sent the matter back into court on the ground that the proceedings should have been brought in the name of the Attorney General. The Attorney General afterwards entered his appearance.

City Counselor Marshall's contention is that the charter provision that no appointive officer of the city of St. Louis shall be in arrears for taxes, means that no taxes assessed against such appointee shall be past due. He drew a parallel between rent in arrears and taxes in arrears. Rent not yet actionable can be sued for by attachment when the tenant is about to leave the State, but no judgment can be obtained until the rent is due just as in the case of a note.

Leverett Bell representing the Master Plumbers, held that taxes were in arrears when a tax bill had been rendered and not paid.

Judge Dillon admitted Kalbfell's testimony on the point, subject to objection. Kalbfell said he paid his tax bill for 184 the day after he was summoned to court in this cause.

He testified that he entered the plumbing cause.

He testified that he entered the plumbing business on Aug. 1, 1892. Mr. Bell tried to business on Aug. 1, 1892. Mr. Bell tried to show that Kalbfell was simply a business officer of his company. Kalbfell mentioned one or two instances in which he had done practical plumbing work. Kalbfell said he had not been educated as a plumber.

He produced a certificate from the former Supervisor of Plumbing, Hennessey, showing that he had executed a bond for the protection of the public from injury by reason of plumbing done by him.

A long wrangle ensued over a detailed catechetic examination of Kalbfell as to his qualifications. Judge Dillon admitted the questions, but said he did not mean to decide the issue on such questions if Kalbfell could show that he had a fair knowledge of the plumbing business. He could not oust the Bupervisor merely because it could be shown that there were better plumbers.

Impressive Services Arranged for John W. Norton's Funeral.

The body of John W. Norton, which arrived in the city at 7:20 last evening, is now lying at the undertaking establishment of Scott & Lynch on Oilve, near Twelfth street. The remains arrived in charge of Mr. Chas. R. Pope, who left yesterday morning for that purpose. Over 100 members of the Elks, all wearing sliken badges of mourning, were in waiting at the depot when the train bearing the body of their beloved brother rolled in. As soon as the body was taken from the car it was borne to the hearse in waiting by the following pall bearers selected for the purpose: Wm. J. Baker, Esteemed Leading Knight; Statius Kehrman, Jr., Esteemed Loyal Knight; Hon. Charles F. Joy. Past Exalted Ruler; James J. Kerns, Esquire; J. J. Desberger, Chaplain of the lodge, and a pupil of Mr. Norton; Judge W. C. Jones and John W. Loader. It was then conveyed to the undertaking establishment, where it will remain until 11 o'clock Thursday morning. It will then be conveyed to the main parlor of the Southern Hotel, where it will lie in state until 2:30 p. m., at which time the funeral services will be held. FUNERAL ARRANGEMENTS COMPLETE.

All the funeral arrangements have been completed. The services will commence promptly at 2:30 at the Southern Hotel. Dr. John Snyder, who was a warm personal friend of the deceased, will officiate.

The Elks, who have all the arrangements in charge, will meet at their lodge-rooms promptly at 1:45 p. m. At that hour, headed by a brass band of about 100 pleces, they will march from their rooms in the Hagan Building, across Tenth street to Olive, east on Olive to Broadway, thence south to the Southern. The band is composed of members of the Musicians' Mutual Benefit Association, the different theatsr orchestras in the city and twelve members of Primrose & West's band. During the services in the hotel the Þand will occupy a position in the rotunds.

THE SERVICES.

The services will commence with the singing of a hymn by a quartet from the Pauline Hall Opera company. Dr. Snyder will then read a passage of Scripture and follow with a few appropriate remarks. The quartet will then sing another hymn, after which Dr. Snyder will pronounce a benediction. The body will then be conveyed to the hearse, during which time the band down stairs will play an appropriate selection. The cortege will then take up its march, headed by the band to Broadway and Wash street, where the band will disperse and the procession will proceed to Bellefontaine Cemetery, where the interment will be made. The services at the grave will be according to the Elks ritual. A special detail of police will be stationed along Broadway while the funeral procession is passing.

TUDOR STRIKERS.

They Refuse to Return to Work, as Ordered.

The strike at the Tudor Iron Works in East St. Louis, which resulted from an at-tempt made two weeks ago to replace the coss rollers, who had been earning about $15 a day, with machinists paid $3.50 a day, has assumed a critical phase on account of a notice issued by General Manager William Hanpeter. The notice was to the effect that all employes must report for duty at 12 o'clock to-day, and that those who failed to do so would be discharged. The strikers, who are all members of the Amaigamated Association, held a meeting and decided not to report for duty until the boss rollers were reinstated. When Manager Hanpeter heard of the strikers' action he stated that the management would make no concessions whalever and that as soon as the plant was in readiness it would be required to complete the repairs now in progress, he said, and then he would start up the mill. He claimed to have private assurances from a number of the strikers that they would be ready to work when the resumption took place. Alderman Samuel Malone, one of the boss rollers, claimed to the contrary, that none of the strikers would give in. He said the steel workers were well organized and were confident of winning the strike, which they considered to be more for a principle, than for the reinstatement of individuals. day, with machinists paid $3.50 a day, has

The organization will be perfected in about ten days, when fifteen or twenty of the officers of the Alpha Chapter, in Kansas City, will visit St. Louis to impart the ritual and install the new chapter officers.

The Aesculapian Society is a Greek-letter medical fraternity. Mr. Boarman is president of Alpha Chapter. The society was organized in Kansas City four years ago. If now numbers, 1,000 associate and active members, having chapters in Omaha, Kansas City and St. Joseph. Medical students and professors are active members; practicing physicians are associate members. All chapters are designated by Greek letters, Professors and students of any reputable medical school can organize a chapter by communicating with the chapter nearest to the school. No chapter can be organized without the consent of the other chapters. The object of the society is to encourage a higher grade of scholarship, to promote a friendly association of its members, to render more efficient service for the college in which the chapter is organized, to bind the members of the different chapters of the Aesculapian Society more closely together for mutual aid and assistance after leaving the college.

Dr. Berger said that the origin of the ancient Assculapian Society is lost in the mystic background of prehistoric times. Records of it are found on the monuments of old Egypt. It had its seat among the priests and physicians gathered about the temples, its object being the advancement of the science of medicine and the cultivation of fraternal and benevolent feelings. From Egypt, it spread to Greece and her colonies in Asia Minor, Italy and Africa. Traces of this society can be found even in India and in China.

this society can be found even in India and in China.

"Hermes," said Dr. Berger, "was the founder of the society. His character and life were changed by superstition and time to those of the God of Medicine. The Greeks called him Apollo. The son of Hermes was Aesculapius, Ins the Middle Ages, the society was known as that of the Hermetic Brethrea. The badge, which we have also adopted, was the well-known skull and cross-bones, with the monogram of Alpha and Epsilon on the skull, a red pigment in the eyes and a yellowish tint on the bones.

"The colors were crimson and gold, typifying the life current and the purifying fire.

"In our revived society, we aim to make physicians better men and more mindful of the duties of their honorable calling."

A GENEROUS CONTRIBUTION.

Editor Post-Dispatch—Dear Sir: Please find enclosed 49 cents from the citizens of North St. Louis, which please hand to Supt.
Butier of the Bellefontaine street car line for the purpose of furnishing coal to heat his cars.

Donated by a number of patrons.

As there was atached to the letter-a postscript asking that the matter be attended to the religious reporter was immediately assigned on this mission of mercy. Proceeding to the power house of the Bellefontaine line on Twentienth pear Bissell street, he found Superintendent Butler busily engaged in the repair shop. Cailling the gentleman aside after a few delicately chosen preliminary remarks the religious reporter presented the handsome superintendent with the touching token of his patrons' esteem. The superintendent was deeply moved by the presentation. He smiled a goodnatured smile and at first expressed a disinclination to accept the unexpected donation, but as the visitor informed him that he would "blow" the coppers on the shop gang if the superintendent didn't take them, the latter finally compromised the matter by pocketing the pennies and buying 49 cents worth of cigars for himself and the reporter at a drug store over the way. "We will burn a few pieces of rope while we talk," said Manager Butler, as he lit his cigar.

"I'll just take this letter to Mr. Scullin," he continued with a smile.

cause I have not received a single complaint all winter about our cars being cold. You see, even if our cars are cold its not our fault. It's the underwriters'. They will not allow us to have a fire in any car while it is in the shed. Therefore we have to light the fire after the car has started out and put it out before the car is run in. Thus you see if you happen to catch a car on its first or last trip it may be a little cold. But then the underwriters are to blame for that."

first or last trip it may be a little cold. But then the underwriters are to blame for that."

It is to be hoped, however, that the underwriters are not also to blame for the alleged stoves that are in the Bellefontaine cars, and in fact in all the other cars of the Scullin system, as well as the Cass avenue, Union and Northern Central lines. They are all simply pocket editions of ordinary car-heating stoves.

In this below zero weather they are responsible for untold misery. It's just as often that they are not heated, and when they are a man on either side and another man in front generally manage to absorb all the warmth that exudes therefrom. Simply a case of being one of the first three men in to keep warm.

Julius Lehman, a well known North End politician, got on a Bellefontaine car near his home a few days ago with a portly friend from the interior of the State, to whom he had for years been lauding the superior excellence of St. Louis' street railway system. Julius took a seat right next to the stove and his friend tried to sit by his side but found the space too small. "Move over, Julius," said his friend. "I can't," said the statesman. "Well push that big box out of the way," said his friend. "I can't," said the statesman. "Well push that big box out of the way," said his friend. "Box?" said Mr. Lehman. "Stove" elaculated the indignant countryman. "Is that what you call a stove for your fine street cars here. Why, I've got a better stove than that at home in my dog house."

These stoves are simply little boxes placed on the car sest and it's a matter of great on the car sest and it's a matter of great on the car sest and it's a matter of great on the car sest and it's a matter of great on the car sest and it's a matter of great on the car sest and it's a matter of great on the car sest and it's a matter of great on the car sest and it's a matter of great on the car sest and it's a matter of great on the car sest and it's a matter of great on the car sest and it's a matter of great on the car sest and

LOESSIG IS HONEST

Secretary Sloan of the A. L. of H. Explains the Alleged Shortage.

John A. Sloan, grand secretary of the American Legion of Honor, explains that the alleged shortage of Arthur E. Loessig, collector of George Washington Council, No. 214, A. L. of H., is due to the young man's failure to report to the supreme officers, in Boston, all suspensions for non-payment of descessings.

rallure to report to the supreme officers, in Boston, all suspensions for non-payment of assessments.

"Mr. Loessig is honest, and he has not misapplied a cent. He came to me a few days ago and declared that he forwarded to Boston all of the money that he collected. Mistakes have been made, either here or in Boston, and I am disposed to believe that they were made here, Mr. Loessig is only 21 years old, and is unfitted for the position. Three of the supreme officers came here from Boston on Nov. 3, 1894, to investigate an irregularity, growing out of the collector's lack of method. The death benefit of Mrs. Wheeler, a school-teacher, was recommended to the supreme officers by Loessig for payment. She died on Aug. 23, and her dues were receipted for as if zaid two days after her death. The fact was, that she paid her dues on Aug. 21, and Loessig neglected to make the proper entries. A similar case is that of Carl Erickson. He paid his dues on Sept. 1 and died on Sept. 6, but Loessig failed to make the entry until Sept.8. This claim has not yet been settled, but Mrs. Wheeler's was paid as soon as the irregularity was explained. The supreme officers charge up to Loessig assessments against suspended members whom he falis to report. Some of these persons were suspended before Loessig became collector, and, unknown to him, the supreme officers have been charging Loessig with the assessments against these former members, because Loessig's predecessors did not report the suspensions to Boston. In this way, I explain the difference of $1.400 between the accounts of Loessig and those of the supreme officers.

The council will hold a special meeting at Loessig and those of the supreme officers. ficers."

The council will hold a special meeting at Lafayette Hall on Wednesday evening to straighten out the tangle.

BONDS OF OFFICIALS.

Reform Sald to Be Needed in the System Governing Such Securities.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30.-The bonding of Government officials is a subject which has been under discussion by the House Commit been under discussion by the House Committee on Appropriations for several days, and the committee has concluded that it's a field in which there is great room for reform. The irregularities and lack of system governing the securities taken by the Government for the performance of official duties were first inquired into by the experts of the Dockery commission and brought to the attention of the committee. Recently the heads of several departments and bureaus have been before the sub-committee of appropriations, which is framing the legislative bill and it has ben shown that the surety system is probably more lax than that of any other Government. Many officers are bonded for a term of four years, and if, as often happens, there is delay in the appointment of the successors and they continue to officiate, the Government is left without any guarantee or means of making good losses if any are incurred through their acts. This lapse is frequent in the cases of first-class postmasters, but the Assistant Treaurers of the United States present the most conspicuous examples, since their bondsmen, according to decisions by the courts, cease to be responsible at the end of four years and the Government is left with no recourse in case of default, in the interim, until the appointment of their successors.

It is apparent, however, that there will tee on Appropriations for several days, and terim, until the appointment of their successors.

It is apparent, however, that there will be no time to adopt any new plan in this session of Congress, so the committee will leave that work for the next Congress. Some necessary reforms to go into immediate effect and act as safeguards until a general system shall be established are embodied in a bill introduced by Representative Dockery. It provides that all bonds of United States officials shall be examined at least every two years by the officials required by law to take and approve them, for the purpose of ascertaining the sufficiency of the amount and the sureties; also requiring the same officers to cause bonds to be renewed four years after their date, strengthened or renewed oftener if thought necessary, with discretion, however, to waive the requirements of a new bond for the period of service of a bonded officer after the expiration of his term and pending the appointment of his successor, the liability of principal and sureties on the original bond to continue of his successor, the hability of principal and sureties on the original bond to continue during this period.

The House has authorized the Appropria-tion Committee to attach the bill to the legislative bill.

Many motives are assigned for the deed. The true one seems to have been a desire to make a dramatic exit after a combination of marital troubles.

Mr. Anderson was 48 years old. He was flute instructor in a local college and had been advertised as flute soloist at a coming concert of the Chicago orchestra.

Among his effects was a notice of January 22 to appear in court to answer a bill on complaint filed by his wife in a divorce proceeding, and this may have been the cause of his act.

On Sunday he erected a frame ouilding surrounded by a wire fence noved his family into the structure, and the next train was obliged to halt. When Wm. Garland, president of the railway company, who was on the train, atway company, who was on the train, attempted to remove the wire fence, Sullivan levelled a shot gun at the president, warning him to keep hands off-advice which Garland promptly followed. The train was obliged to return here, and a warrant was issued for Sullivan's arrest. He still effectually blocks the track, however, although District Attorney Jones says he will remove the obstruction and arrest all parties offering resistence. The case is considered unique in the annals of railroad construction.

ENVOYS AT KOBE.

Chinese Peace Commissioners Arrive in Japan.

YOKOHAMA, Jan. 30.—The Chinese peace envoys have arrived at Kobe and will go to Hiroshima by train this afternoon, accompanied by Mr. John W. Foster, ex-Secretary of State of the United States, who is acting as their adviser, and Councilior Wo. The latter, replying to a question as to the nature of the proposals the Chinese envoys were instructed to submit to Japan, said that their nature might be inferred from the disastrous condition of China.

Gen. Nogi reports from Styutsal, under date of Jan. 28, that the Chinese are near Yang-Kao. He adds that the Japanese cavalry scouts have prevented the enemy from proceeding beyond Lao-Peng. The Chinese have advanced their whole line. Dispatches received here from Chemulpo, Corea, say that the Japanse and Corean troops defeated the Tonghaks on Jan. 8 in the vicinity of Cheng-Hiang. The Tonghaks lost heavily. Troops have left Lio-Chow in order to attack the rebels at Koshin.

IN FAVOR OF JUDGE LONG.

Judge Bradley Grants the Mandamu Against Commissioner Lochren.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 30.-Judge Bradley of the District Supreme Court yes

Bradley of the District Supreme Court yesterday granted the mandamus asked for by Judge Charles D. Long of Michigan to compel Commissioner Lochren of the Pension Bureau to restore the former rating of $72 per month to the plaintiff. The mandamus asked against Secretary Smith asked for by Judge Long was denied as unnecessary.

Three questions were involved in the case, whether Commissioner Tanner was justified in issuing the certificate giving Judge Long a $72 a month rating; whether the Commissioner of Pensions is empowered to review and reverse the action of his predecessor upon the same state of facts, for alleged error in judgment, to change the status of the relator on the pension rolls and to revoke his pension certificates, and whether the Court has power by mandamus to direct the Commissioner to vacate his order of revocation.

the Commissioner to vacate his order of revocation.
Discussing the functions of the Commissioner of Pensions, Judge Bradley laid down the proposition that the Commissioner is neither the Government nor Congress, and cannot give or withhold pensions at his pleasure. The action of Commissioner Lochren in revoking Judge Long's certificates, it was held, was illegal, and his clear duty, therefore, the court said, is to revoke that order, restore the form from the present rate of $5$ per month, and enforce continuance of such large payments.

AN ACT OF FOLLY.

Not a shadow of excuse can be urged for the failure of Congress to act favor-ably upon so much of the President's message as is embraced in the recommendation of an act enabling the Sec retary of the Treasury to make a popular oan.

If Congress could prevent the issue onds or would take such action as would render a bond issue unnecessary, a refusal to authorize such a loan might be justified. But the apparent impossibility of checking the drain on the gold reserve at a point which the Administration regards as safe makes another bond issue inevitable. The reserve is now reduced to $48,000,000, and it is certain that a fresh loan will be made.

Under the old redemption law the Government has obtained within less than a year $117,000,000 of gold, every dollar of which has been lost. It is again at the mercy of the bankers who have victimized it in two bond issues. The inaction of Congress will force the Government into a most humiliating strait. It will be compelled to beg a loan of our own or of foreign bankers under condition which render it helpless to withstand their exactions and prevent their profiting by sharp practices.

The question is simply whether being forced to borrow money it shall be borrowed under the best or the worst conditions, whether the Government shall be victimized by sharpers or helped by the people. There is an abundance of idle gold in the country which will be placed at the disposal of the Government if the Secretary of the Treasury is permitted to issue the bonds suggested by the President. The refusal of Congress to permit the Administration to take so sensible business measure until the crisis is tided over would be an act of supreme folly.

AN ABSURD MEASURE.

One of the enthusiastic advocates of the law forbidding the playing of base ball on Sunday, passed by the lower house of the State Legislature, said that the cities are "largely hot-beds of iniquity and cesspools of immorality."

It would be interesting to have this nember explain how iniquity and immorality are to be reduced in cities by cutting off the urban youth from all innocent amusement on Sunday, the one free day of the week. Base ball is a harmless sport. It affords healthful exercise and amusement. The only day upon which the youths and young men of the city can engage in out of door sports is Sunday. If they are cut off from base ball and other innocent games on that day they will seek entertainment in more demoralizing ways. The back door of the den is always open. Places of rendezvous will be found where lessons of iniquity will be inculcated. Do the representatives who voted for this measure believe that a jury can be found who will inflict a fine of $50 on boys good faith. and young men confined all the week at With Mexico burning for a fight, and work for engaging in a game of base ball To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch, such a law should be enforced it would Houses of Congress to indorse the bonds help the morals of the youth of either the city or country? The law is not in the interest of good norals and cannot be enforced. It would only make the Sunday laws a little more absurd than they are and in so far tend to bring all laws into discredit. The present Sunday law is a practical dead letter and supplies a nucleus for a law breaking combination in cities.

The Senate should promptly check this attempt to revive the blue laws and to promote real iniquity at the expense of both the physical and moral health of the youth.

A HOPEFUL VIEW.

The uncertainty of congressional action to relieve the financial straits of the Government renders the question of consequences of paramount importance. The press is filled with gloomy predictions of disaster should the Government be unable to maintain the gold reserve at a safe point and meet all of its obligations with gold payments.

It is the part of wisdom to face the possible crisis frankly and bravely. There is more danger of panic from sense less fear than actual financial and commercial conditions. It is gratifying in view of the possibilities to find a "leading banker," supposed to be no less an authority than J. Pierrepont Morgan, who is a strong advocate of the gold redemption policy, taking a sensible and hopeful of the situation. He says: "I do not look for any serious disturb eldent with our finding ourselves upon a silver basis. There is too much money ac ated and too little use for it. The effect of our being upon a silver basis would be only gradually manifested, and would take the shape of a steadily depreciating currency; that is to say, our currency would gradually recede until it represented the price of silver. Necessarily as its purchasing power decreases in the direction I have stated, silver ought to advance in price, and it would not surprise me if the price of sil-ver and the value of the currency met each other half way. I think that this will be accomplished without any premium being es-lablished on gold.

"It implies no danger of any kind. PATERNALISM.

It seems that a bill has passed both of a corporation to build or dig the Nicara-

Houses of Congress to indorse the bonds of a corporation to build or dig the Nicaragua Canal.

This is pure paternalism of the most objectionable character. One would think we had had experience enough of this character in the Union Pacific Railroad, with its credit mobilier rascality and its constant and persistent defaication in the payment of interest on its bonds.

All such transactions are wrong in every particular. They are unbusinesslike and lead directly to corruption and pay a premium on rascality.

The policy of aiding in the construction of the canal should be based on business principles. That is, if the United States puts in any money it should be as a subscription to the stock and the cash should be paid therefor as the work progresses, and when the work is done the people of the United States will own the stock subscribed and paid for, which will, in all probability, be the majority of the stock. Then the United States would have the power to control and manage the concern through the Board of Directors chosen by the stockholders.

Why cannot our Congress learn to do business in a business-like manner? Suppose the corporation proposing to build the canal should go to a large capitalist for aid, what would be his terms? Would he indorse the bonds of the concern and allow the stock to be taken and controlled by a gang of irresponsible adventurers? It is a shame that the American people cannot be protected in all such financial transactions.

We have sat for months and months past at our work benches, in our offices and factories and contemplated with dismay, almost bordering on desperation, the heartless, unpatriotic conduct of our money kings in Wall street, and heads of trusts, combines, etc., whose sole aim seems to be to increase their coffers, no matter if every dollar so wrenched from the people represents a drop of blood drawn from the body politic or from the heart of Uncle Sam. Col. Sim Price Represents the Railroad Interests at Jefferson-Arguments Before the Committee-Mothers of Little Ones Interested in the Crusade.

JEFFERSON CITY, Jan. 30.-Before the House Committee on Private Corporations last night Representative Johnston of St. Louis County and Sim T. Price of St. Louis, representing the street railroad interests argued for and against the Johnston street car fender bill. At the start the chairman Stickney, wanted to limit Mr. Johnston in his presentation, but finally allowed him to ed without limitation. Mr. Johnsto urged the public necessity for the passag f such a measure, and stated that appeal for such an act are coming to him from all in fact, where a cable or an electric car is operated. He called attention to that clause in the bill that provides that if any company shall neglect or refuse to provide fenders, and any accident occurs, that company shall not be permitted to take advantage of any contributory negligence that may be shown, but shall be held as having been entirely to blame.

Mr. Price, in reply, cited article 19 of the city charter of St. Louis, as conferring full power upon the city to legislate in this matter, and he begged that the Missouri Legislature leave the determination of the kind of device to be used to the city of St. Louis, through its Board of Public Improvements.

HEIGHT OF FENDERS.

He declared that the present bill stipulated no height at which the fenders must be carried, and that in leaving the question whether a fender was in a given case carried at the proper height to the trial jury, the attorney bringing the damage, suit could stake his case on the height of the fender, and by claiming that if it had been a half inch higher or lower the accident could not have happened, he could throw all the burden of responsibility upon the company.

Mr. Price was asked whether he would be willing to fix a height and allow that to ro into the bill; and he replied in the negative, assigning as the reason that the height must vary according to the quality of pavements over which the cars must run. He assessed go into the bill; and he replaced in the height tive, assigning as the reason that the height must vary according to the quality of pavements over which the cars must run. He assured the committee that all lines of street railway that penetrated the county also ran within the city limits, and that the city had full conrol over them. Mr. Atkins asked whether Mr. Price claimed that the State had no power to regulate such matters, and he replied that it had full power, but, having conferred such rights upon the city, it would be better to let the city exercise it. As to the right of other municipal corporations in the State, Mr. Price gave it as his opinion that all such corporations, down to third-class cities, had the right to regulate such matters. As to the legal proposition involved in the clause that proposed to deprive the street railroad companies of the right to plead contributory negligence and leave that right unimpaired with all other corporations, he held that that would be a discrimination, which, in his opinion, the courts would never sanction.

In answer to an assertion of Mr. Price, that this was the Post-Dispatch fender bill, Mr. Johnston stated that it was not the Post-Dispatch's measure, but that he had conceived a notion of framing such a bill by watching the cars of the South Sixth Street Line in St. Louis.

The committee did not give formal notice of its intention respecting the bill, but Chairman Stitchney and other members manifested their sympathy with it by the inter-

The fender petitions, circulated by the Post-Dispatch, in favor of making the placing of guards or fenders on all cable and electric cars in this city, are filling up with amazing rapidity: Everyone readily recognizes the necessity for the reform and is anxious to testify by affixing their signatures to the petitions to their full appreciation of the sterling worth of the movement. When completed the petition promises to be the largest of its kind ever circulated in this city. every thinking man and woman in the community.

Parents, and particularly mothers of small children, are more than anxious to see these safeguards placed on the cars. So common have frightful street car accidents become that many know by bitter experience what it is to have a loved one, relative or friend, injured or perhaps maimed in this manner. Still others have witnessed such accidents and can readily realize what a blessing some device will be which will prevent this cruel and useless slaughter.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30.-It is the opinion of high Catholic ecclesiastics that the Pope' poyclical will be followed at no distant date by a supplemental letter specifically dealing with the American delegation. M. E. McHenry, the "Demon Driver," from Preeport, Ill., will appear in a new role this season, as the secretary of the trotting association at Freeport. He has raced harmess horses over the biggest tracks in the country for years, and should know exactly shat the ewners of trotters and pacers desire, in addition to the public's demands. As one of Mr. McHenry's admirers puts it. If he can conduct the Freeport meeting as if he can conduct the Freeport meeting as well as he can drive in a race, it will be the port, commencing on July 22 and ending on July 27. The stakes already opened will be twenty-four in number and amount to $41,000.

Additional purse races will bring the aggregate for the meeting up to $50,000. The 2:20 class of trotters will get a $5,000 purse, and the free-for-all pacing event for stallions will be worth the same amount. The Free-port meeting takes place during the week preceding the racing season at Joliet, which will be worth the same amount. The Free-port meeting takes place during the week preceding the racing season at Joliet, which opens the Western-Southern circuit. After Joliet, the Terre Haute, the Indianapolis and the Fort Wayne meetings follow, in the order named. The Freeport meeting will take place over the mile track at Taylor's Park.

take place over the mile track at Taylor's Park.

M. E. McHenry is one of the greatest drivers on the trotting turf. World's records are not easy to secure, but the following are a few that are to his credit. Some of them have been beaten since, but many have not. Aug. 30, 1830, Roy Wilkes, against time, 2:084; Aug. 27, 1831, Roy Wilkes, race record for pacing stallions, 2:104; 1832, Lobasco, race record for trotting stallions, 2:104; 1832, Guy, race record for trotting stallions, 2:104; 1832, Guy, race record for trotting stallions, 2:104; 1832, Guy, race record for pacing mares, 2:084, which is still the fastest; 1834, John R. Gentry, fastest stallion in the world, 2:034; impetuous, the only two year-old that ever trotted two heats in a race in 2:154; Indra, 2:334, fastest yearling filly of 1834.

Abe Cahn, the St. Louis turfman, who races in the colors of the Charter Oak Stable, steel gray and pink, will campaign nineteen head of thoroughbreds this season. Cahn intends to race all his horses at the Fair Grounds, bringing the stable to St. Louis after the spring meeting at Memphis. The 2-year-old division of the Charter Oak string includes twelve head of youngsters, and the stable horses in the older division include Linda, Sir Abner, Trenton and Sumo. At Memphis and Little Rock the Charter Oak Stable has made nominations for the Tennessee and Arkansas derbies and Mr. Cahn hopes that either Trenton or Sumo will carry his colors to the front in at least one of the above-mentioned events. As mentioned in Tuesday's Post-Dispatch Mr. Cahn came up from Memphis to make his entries to the Fair Grounds stake events. This he did yesterday, and at the same time secured the promise from Secretary Gwynn of stall room for his entire stable. The main division of the Charter Oak string is winterpromise from Secretary Gwynn of stall room for his entire stable. The main division of the Charter Oak string is wintering at Memphis, where Mr. Cahn returned last night. Part of the stable is racing at New Orleans. Minnie Cee, one of Mr. Cahn's horses, captured the second race there Tuesday, ridden by Lonnie Clayton.

Mark J. Farley, Secretary of the Roby Fair Association of Chicago, has been selected to officiate as the presiding judge at the coming Hot Springs meeting. Clem Creveling of St. Louis will do the starting. George Erhiltch, Tommie Connors and Abe Tillis will go to the Springs with Walsh and Cella, who have secured the foreign book at the track during the meeting. R. W. Cunningham is already there perfecting arrangements for the meeting, which commences Thursday week.

the track during the meeting. R. W. Cunningham is already there perfecting arrangements for the meeting, which commences Thursday week.

Starter Creveling's St. Louis friends would like to see him get a chance with the flag at the Fair Grounds this spring. This meeting will continue four weeks, during two of which it will be impossible to secure J. B. Ferguson, who is in such favor with President Maffitt on account of his connection with Harlem. Creveling's friends suggest that Clem be secured for the two weeks while Ferguson is at Chicago, and during the other two weeks the latter could come here and do the work. If such an arrangement can be perfected it would be the next best thing to securing either Caldwell, Rowe or Ferguson for the entire meeting.

Secretary J. K. Gwynn is anxious to have all horse owners who will race on the western circuit this season understand that there will be no conflict in the big stake races.

"All the tracks in the Western Turf Congress that clash," said Mr. Gwynn, have agreed, as usual, in the selection of dates for running their big events. This will give the Fair Association the right of way Inaugural day and the date on which the club members' handicap is decided. Under such an arrangement owners of high-class horses can enter their charges indiscriminately. Chicago and Cincinnati are the two points from which the Fair Grounds will have the most formidable opposition, but each of these places are only twelve hours from St. Louis, and the owners of stake horses can ship their cracks back and forward without disturbing the rest of their strings.

"By letting the horsement understand that such an arrangement has been perfected, I am confident they will have no hesitation in entering as liberally here as at the tracks where the stakes closed earlier."

First race—Mascot, 4 to 1, first; Red Head, to 1, second; Young Lottery, 4 to 5, committee on the cycle show to be held at Uhrig's Cave Hall on Feb. 7 and 8. It was decided to have the show open from 2 to 10 o'clock p. m. each day, and to have the opening ceremonies at 8 o'clock p. m., Feb. 7. Mayor Walbridge will be invited to deliver an address, and the McGrew Guards will be asked to act as a guard of honor to the Mayor and to remain during the evening.

At Alexander Island—Red Cross, John P., Valcott, Paragon, Gonzales. At New Orleans—G. B. Cox, Minnie Cee, ottie Alter, Brakeman, Mrs. Bradshaw. At Ban Francisco—America, Booze, Gor-lins, Joe Cotton, Percy.

All of the committees reported the work in good shape, and that all of the cycle will be seen at the show for the first time in 8t. Louis. One firm will exhibit an 8½ pound bleycle, complete in every detail and thoroughly practical for track racing. There will also be shown a skacycle, a machine fitted with runners, for ice riding. Many 8t. Louis riders have never seen a "quad," a bleycle built for four, as there has never been one in this city before.

A machine that will attract considerable attention will be an electric pace-maker, a machine that can be regulated to a certain speed and run ahead of the rider on the track, so that he can tell exactly at what rate of speed he is traveling.

There will be about thirty models of wheels shown, all of the latest pattern, and twelve styles of bleycle tires.

and appears to be thoroughly sane. He seemed annoyed that the matter had been made public through the indiscretion of a friend.

"If I was a Zimmerman or a Johnson or a Sanger." he said, "I suppose no one would think me crazy. But the attempt will be made all right and I will be a wealthy man if it succeeds, which I never doubt."

All efforts to get an idea of the means which will permit him to travel at the terrific pace were unavailing. "It is my own invention," said Murphy, "and even if anybody did discover it he could not make use of it, because it will cost all of $20,000 to make the attempt."

BASE BALL SEASON

Will Open April 18 With the Chicagos

The National League playing season this, year will open one day earlier than it did last, despite the protest of players. President Nick Young has named Thursday, April 18, as the opening day for 1895. Following is the playing schedule for the opening day: Pittsburg at Louisville, Cleveland at Cincinnati, Chicago at St. Louis, Philadelphia at Washington, Baltimore at New York and Brooklyn at Boston.

work one month earlier this year than they did last. In four weeks they are expected to be ready for the journey South. The start to Galveston will be made on either Thursday, Feb. 23, or Thursday, March 7. This will give the team over a month and a half of preliminary work. Anson is pleased over the plan, as he thinks the poor work of the team early last season was due in some measure to the fact that they did all their preliminary work in Chicago, where the weather is ordinarily favorable for very little outdoor work before the actual opening of the championship season. President Hart agrees with the manager.

fore the actual opening of the championship season. President Hart agrees with the manager.

Capts. Joyce of Washington and Tebeau of Cleveland are preparing a new rule to be submitted to the Committee on Rules, which meets next month. The new rule will apply to hits made in small grounds, where the visiting team is usually placed at a disadvantage. In Chicago, Cincinnati and Baltimore the left field fences are so near the batter that it is comparatively easy to knock a ball over them, and the crowd, as a rule, will throw it back if it was knocked there by a visitor, but will let it remain should a home team man have made the hit. St. Louis, Cleveland, Washington, New York and Philadelphia have large grounds, and the trouble is not experienced in them, and these teams do not have the same advantage as the others do.

Manager Gus Schmelz has received the signed contract of D. J. Mahoney, the catcher of the Portland Club of, the New England League. This makes it certain that the Senators will begin the season with four catchers. Where the club appeared weak a few weeks ago it promises now to be stronger than ever.

JACK M'AULIFFE COMING.

The Lightweight Champion Will Be Here Friday or Saturday.

Jack McAuliffe, the lightweight champion, writes his friend Danny McBane that he will be in St. Louis Friday or Saturday, on his way to Hot Springs. In his communication to McBane the lightweight champion further states that he understands from the Eastern papers that Mike Mooney of St. Louis is talking about fighting him again, and if that is correct he (McAuliffe) would like to meet the St. Louis man in a four-round argument. Ex-Champion John L. Sullivan will be in East St. Louis Sunday, and it is probable McAuliffe will lay over here long enough to meet the once mighty man from Boston.

Regarding McAuliffe's talk about meeting Mooney, Jimmy Lynch, who is a particular friend of the great lightweight, says: "Jack don't have to bother himself about Mike Mooney. I am willing to meet him at any time and under any conditions as long as the articles call fog a battle at the lightweight limit. I understand Mooney says I refused to box him over ten rounds, but that's incorrect. What I did say was that we could get a purse for a ten-round go at Cincinnati, out I am willing to meet him to a finish any time he wants to fight. I will make the match now and fight five weeks after signing articles." Jack McAuliffe, the lightweight champion Cohn has written the Seaside Athletic Club of New York, the Olympic Club of New Orleans and the Duval Athletic Club of Jacksonville asking their best terms for the proposed go. The principal clubs on the other side that are expected to bid for the fight are the National Sporting Club of London, the Bolingbroke Club, also of London, and the Sporting Club of Liverpool. Leon is hopeful that the match may become a fixture for this country.

william A. Brady has announced that "Steve" O'Donnell, Corbett's sparring partner, had agreed to fight Peter Maher at Coney Island next month or any time in March. If Maher declines to meet O'Donnell, Brady said, the Australian will agree to fight Peter Jackson. Brady denied that Corbett had written a letter to Dick Burge, the English welter-weight pugilist, to the effect that he would agree to fight Peter Jackson in the arena of the National Sporting Club of London next June. "Corbett will never fight Jackson under the auspices of the National Sporting Club," said Brady. "If Jackson ever hopes to face Corbett in the ring he had better make a match with the champion now, the contest to take place during the same week that Corbett meets Fitzsimmons. If he fails to do this he will never get another chance. Win or lose, Corbett's fight with Fitzsimmons will positively be his last, unless the match with Jackson is settled now."

STOLEN GOODS IDENTIFIED.

Taken From Her Store.

A lot of finnel and some cashmere dress goods, all valued at $13, which were found in possession of Frank Schaller and William Aldridge, alias Clair, when arrested Tuesday night by Detectives Viehle and Frese, was identified at 9:30 a. m. as the property of Kate Roedinger, who keeps a dry goods store at 1118 Arsenal street. A warrant charging Schaller and Aldridge with petit larceny has been issued. The store of Mrs. Roedinger was entered through an insecure door Tuesday about 6:30 p. m. and the above property was carried off. Several pairs of ladies' sind children's shoes and some pants goods, also found on the prisoners, have not as yet been identified.

William Bessner, who was arrested Tuesday about 4 p. m. by Officers Ryan and Sullivan of the Central District at Fourteenth and Market streets, was a defendant before Judge Morris on the charge of being drunk on the streets. About 4 o'clock Bessner was passing Wm. Schneppe's cigar store at 1405 Market atreet, when he caught sight of the brave-looking Indian in front. It is not known whether Bessmer got into an argument and fight with the Indian, but when he was seen by the proprietor of the cigar store Bessmer was on top of the cigar sign, which was stretched across the side-walk. The officers were then called and Bessmer was taken into custody. Judge Morris let the defendant go on the promise of good behavior.

Depositions were taken a few days ago at Bonne Terre, Mo., by the Grand Lodge, A. O. U. W. of Missouri in the suit brought against it by Mrs. Josephine Enfield of Bonne Terre to recover £,000 on a benefit certificate issued to her-husband, who disappeared in 1833, leaving his wife and six children to mourn him. An attempt was made about that time to compel the Grand Lodge to pay the benefit on the ground that certain bones found near Bonne Terre were the bones of Enfield. An investigation was made at the time and it was said that after Enfield disappeared from Bonne Terre he made his appearance near Union City, Tenn., and after remaining in that vicinity for some months he suddeoly vanished. Recently Enfield's heirs brought suit and depositions were taken by Frederick H. Bacon of this city, attorney for the Grand Lodge. It was averred by some of the affants that the alleged bones of Enfield were really those of an aged negre, who disappeared some time before Enfield. It was said that the skull was evidently that of an Ethiopian, and the shoes found near the body were number nine, of the largest size. One witness made an amusing statement in telling how he demonstrated that the bones were not those of Enfield. He said that Enfield had a very small head, so that when the witness put his hat on Enfield there was room at the sides for both hands, whereas when witness tried his hat on the alleged skull of Enfield the hat was too small to go on, showing that if the skull was Enfield's it must have grown since his death.

made serious charges against Andrew S. Leitch, the former editor of a labor journal called the Union Record. The woman claimed to be the editor's wife, and gave the name of Mrs. Annie Leitch.

She stated that some time ago her husband sent her away to live on a farm owned by him in Stafford County, Virginia, and that during her absence he instituted divorce proceedings, charging her with desertion. Her maiden name was Annie Patton, and she formerly resided in Brooklyn, N. Y., where her fathes is a man of considerable prominence. She said she married Leitch in Brooklyn fifteen years ago. A short time after their marriage they moved to St. Louis.

inst declined to discuss the difficulty believen them. He afterwards told the following story:

"My married life has been anything but satisfactory almost from the start." he said.

"For the first few years after our marriage we lived in Brooklyn, and during that time had many disagreements. One day in 1886, on returning home in the evening, I found my wife had left me and taken our two children with her. I located her in the home of a friend in Brooklyn, and after locking up our own home I took the keys and gave them to her. I hired a room for myself and continued to work at my trade as a printer. A few months later I left Brooklyn and traveled through the South, working in different cities. The following year I came to St. Louis and have been here ever since. For the first few years I worked as a compositor on one of the newspapers and later started the Union Record.

"About a year after my arrival in St. Louis and found where I was and following wife found where I was and follows."

For the first few years I worked as a compositor on one of the newspapers and later started the Union Record.

"About a year after my arrival in St. Louis my wife found where I was and followed me here. She told a false story to the police, and a detective came to me and threatened to arrest me if I did not live with her. If I had known her then as well as I do now I would have defied her, but as it was I took her back to avoid trouble. I furnished a home for her in town and we went to housekeeping. Certain things came up, the character of which I do not care to state, which led me to separate from her. I engaged a room elsewhere in the city, but continued to support her and the children. She was forced to change her residence a number of times on account of the neighbors complaining to the landlords regarding the way she conducted herself. I refuse to state the nature of these complaints. This final separation between us took place about a year ago last May. She had been woefully extravagant and had got me head over heels in debt. It was due to her extravagance that I lost possession of the Union Record, several creditors of her making having threatened to sue me.

"Last May I told her I was going to get a divorce if possible, and told her that if she desired I would send her to my farm in Virginia. She accepted my proposition and gave me to understand that she would not oppose my action in the divorce suit. Her story about my sending her away and then bringing the suit without her knowledge is all bosh. I don't wish to make any direct charges against her now, but the testimony at the trial will, I am sure, show that I am not to blame in the matter."

When asked if he would render his wife any financial aid in her present impoverlished condition, Mr. Leitch replied:

"I will take the children and provide for them, but as far as she is concerned I

"I will take the children and provide for them, but as far as she is concerned I never intend having anything to do with her again."

COURAGE OF A MOTHER.

With Two Children in Her Arms She Descends an loy Ladder.

NEW YORK, Jan. 80.—A mother's love and courage showed strongly to-day when Mrs. Mary Walsh left a fourth-story window of her home at 47 Sixth avenue and, with her two children in her arms, climbed down an icy iron ladder to escape from the flames that had possession of her room. The fire started while Mrs. Walsh was still in hed with her children. Her husband, a mail carrier, had gone to work shortly before Mrs. Walsh awoke to find her room in flames. The force of the fire and smoke had already blown out a rear window in the house. Mrs. Walsh caught her two children Up and ran through the flames to the fire escape. The fire burned their hightgowns and scorched their hair and flesh. Icicles hung from the ladders down which she had to climb. A beam had fallen across her shoulders as she ran through the burning room and left an ugity bruise. Mrs. Walsh climbed down the ladders and stood on a fletcher, who had been awakened by the Them Mrs. Walsh was herself as sitted down. The surgeon at the hospital to which they went taken said be thought the children would die. YORK, Jan. 80 .- A mother's love and but was declared insane on June 30 and sent to the Insane Asylum. On Sept. 13 Dr. Ernst Mueller, superintendent of the Insane Asylum, pronounced him sane and he was sent back to jail. Shortly before being declared insane Dreher escaped from the Insane Asylum, but was recaptured. When a person has been declared insane by a jury such a person must be declared sane by a jury's verdict before the law will-recognize the person's sanity. An inquiry therefore was ordered by Judge Edmunds and the matter came up on Wednesday in the Criminal Court. Dr. Priest, Chief Dispensary Physician, and Dr. Marks, superintendent of the City Hospital, the State's witnesses in the case, have prenounced Dreher to be insane, and there was no use in going through the form of the inquiry.

The Affairs of the Mound City Hardwar Co. in Court.

Judge Fliter theard preliminarily, in the case of John H. Duniap against the Mound City Hardware Co. of 1011 Olive street, August Holthaus and Herman W. Quernheim, a petition for the removal of Holthaus and Quernheim as directors and officers of the company and the appointment of a receiver.

the company and the appointment of a re-ceiver.

Dunlap charges Quernheim with embezzle-ment and alleges that the corporate man-agement and control of the company was wrongfully taken from him, the President, by Holthaus and Quernheim, who consti-tute a majority of the Board of Directors. He states that their personal and pecuniary interest is adverse to him. Dunlap also claims to be the owner of $5,000 of the $15,000 of capital stock. Holthaus also owns fifty shares, Quernheim one share and Alvina claims to be the owner of $5,000 of the $15,000 of capital stock. Holihaus also owns fifty shares, Quernheim one share and Alvina Quernheim forty-nine shares. On Jan. 2, 1894, Dunlap was chosen President, Holihaus Vice-President and Quernheim Secretary and Treasurer.

Dunlap states that no legal election of officers has taken place since Jan. 2, 1894, and that Quernheim acted as Secretary and Treasurer and general manager since that time, except from Jan. 3, 1895, to Jan. 9, 1895. Among the further allegations of the bill are that Quernheim has from day to day and from time to time clandestinely and feloniously taken from the moneys of the corporation about $1,000 and appropriated the same to his own use and made, it is claimed, false entries in the books.

An injunction against Holihaus and Quernheim, their removal as directors and officers, the restoration of Dunlap as President, as well as the appointment of a receiver are asked for.

The proceedings in court developed warm feeling. Attorneys Collins and Jamison represent the plaintiff, B. Schnurmacher the defendants and Valle Reyburn the largest creditor. Court adjourned at noon to examine the law on the subject, Mr. Schnurmacher maintaining that the court could only order s new election.

A Higher Temperature Is Predicted for Thursday.

The temperature fell from 18 deg. at 8 p. m. Tuesday to 3 deg. at 8 a. m. Wednesday. At 1 p. m. the mercury had risen to 11 deg. The forecast is fair and warmer weather Thursday. The drop in temperature was somewhat of a surprise to the weather officials, who did not look for so marked a decline. The wind was not strong, but the air was chilly and piercing cold.

INCREASED IN VALUE.

In equaining the title to the property at the southwest corner of Fourth and Olive streets, on which the Laclede Building stands. August Gehner, title investigator, has collected an interesting history of the property, covering a period of nearly seventy years. The examination was made in connection with the recent sale of the ground to ex-Sheriff Patrick Staed for $22,-500. The history shows a wonderful advance in value in that time. The property was originally a part of an arpent strip owned by John B. C. Lucas. In March, 1827, Mr. Lucas sold the property for $500 to Philip Creamer. Mr. Creamer sold it, on Dec. 16, 1835, for $6,500 to Nathaniel Patterson, and it was held by him and his widow until she devised it to the Roman Catholic Orphan Asylum of St. Louis and the Convent of the Good Shepherd, in proportions of three-fourths to the asylum and one-fourth to the convent. The convent sold its one-fourth to the asylum on Nov. 2, 1828, Mrs. Patterson gave a perptual lease on the property for a rental of $16,000 per annum and all taxes. This lease is now owned by the Laclede Building Company, which owns the building on the ground.

CATLIN'S PURCHASE.

Daniel Catlin has purchased forty-two feet three inches of ground on the west side of the alley between Beventh and Elighth streets and Olive and Pine streets for $18,000. The property was owned by Messrs. Carton and Faris. It has no street frontage, but can be reached by four alleys—two from Seventh street, one from Olive and one from Pine street. The place was one-of the old pool-rooms. It is occupied by a substantial building, and adjoins Mr. Catlin's Olive afferis. It has no street frontage, but can be reached by four alleys—two from Seventh street, one from Olive and one from Pine street. The place was one-of the old pool-rooms. omas W. Bevans Got His Brid Out of a Convent School.

QUINCY. Ill., Jan. 30.—Thomas W. Bevans, aged 38, and Miss Gertrude Ageen aged 48, both of Canton, Mo., were married at the Tremont Hotel here last Saturday evening, and in connection with this interesting event is quite a romantic story, which has just come to the surface. Both are high in Canton society, the girl's father being the leading merchant there. On account of the disparity in age and for other reasons, the girl was placed in St. Mary's institute in this city by her parents, but with the aid of friends here Bevans opened an avenue of communication with the girl, and Saturday evening at 7 o'clock, during the hour of prayer at the convent, the girl shipped out, entered the carriage which Mr. Bevans occupied and the two were driven to the hotel, where a Justice of the Peace united them in marriage. The couple have since returned to Canton to ask forgiveness of her parents.

Complete Census of the Number and In.

crease in the Country.

CHICAGO, Jan. 30.—The result of a complete census of farm animals, conducted by the Orange Judd farmer, and covering swery county in the country, appears in this week's issue. The decline in values during the past year is very heavy, the aggregate value of all classes being $1,922,600,000 against $2,262,400,000 as year ago, a shrinkage of 15 per cent. The total number of horses is given at 16,082,000, valued at $378,807,000, a decline of 115,000,000 in value; mules; 2,341,000, value, $107,574,000; cows, 17,451,000; value, $237,576,000; cattle, 22,388,000; value, 458,303,-000; sheep, 25,519,000; value, 300,788,000; hogs, 47,000,000; value, $229,568,000.

In milen cows there is a small increase in numbers, while the number of hogs show an increase of 110,000, but in all other classes of animals there is a decrease in numbers. The heaviest loss in numbers is in sheep, the decrease being 6,386,000, or 15 per cent, while the aggregate value of this class of animals has decreased $25,803,000, or 30 per cent, in a single year. In the surplus hog it states there is little change so far as hogs are concerned, from a year ago, but the values are about $1 per head lower.

THE MARKETS.

Having about cleaned out the stock of oats in East Side houses, Southern shippers turned to-day to the stock on the West Side for supplies, and began buying the first thing this morning. With this Southern demand and the seeding demand which comes in February and is very extensive, it is believed the stock of oats in this market will be exhausted very rapidly.

Beerbohm says it will be wise to look for 40,000,000 bu exported last year. Owing to the strikes, which have stopped all business, and the backward harvest January shipments would not be large. Beerbohm also says yet for first half of month 250,000 bu more were exported, against 200,000 bu for same time last year.

The decline in corn brought the price in line with foreign markets, and late yesier-day 125,000 bu No. 2 was engaged for shipment from this market between Feb. 1 and 15. This corn will go via the river route. A good stage of water is expected in the river this spring, so heavy has been the fall of snow this wister.

Speculation in wheat must be improving when one block of 200,000 bu May sells in Toledo. If this keeps on Baltimore will also be heard from.

ON 'CHANGE.

MILWAUKEE—Barley—Cash and Feb.

ON 'CHANGE.

WHEAT—The opening was weak and enough seiling pressure on to force the price down '4c', but buyers right pientiful at the decline and the market soon rallied '42-'5c'. 'It did not hold this advance and very soft spot developed, during which the price declined '5c', but again rallied and on this bulge sold just ic above the bottom, quite a snappy demand springing up too. The market udjeted down subsequently but only sold off '$c', but closed with buyers '42' c above yesterday.

The unsettling influence this morning was the financial bug-a-boo, apprehensions being feit that Congress would not take the speedy action that business men deem necessary to relieve the country from its present strained conditions of trade and finance. This was also reflected. Wall street and the weakness in stocks added to the heaviness of the wheat market. Most of the selling on this, however, was by bearishly inclined traders and their offerings met with ready takers after the first burst of weakness was over. Foreign markets were in better shape than they have been, the early cables reporting steadiness, though no advance in spots. The friendless feeling evidenced by the more confident buying was largely due to the increased cash demand that came for all cereals. In this connection the insignificant receipts here—1,300 bushels, and at old Western winter wheat markets only 4,000 bushels and 106,500 bushels a year ago —were viewed buillishly. Northwestern receipts of 227 cars were larger.

Clearances of only 25,000 packages flour and 66,000 buy wheat made the buils dived to the line of the confidence of the confidence of the confidence of the country there were larger.

105,500 bushels a year ago —were viewed bullishly. Northwestern receipts of 22 cars were larger.

Clearances of only 25,000 packages flour and 65,000 bu wheat made the bulls tiged, and followed by a Paris cable reporting 240 decline and accompanied by a landside in Chicago, started selling that rushed prices down rapidly. A good reaction soon followed, the closing Liverpool coming steadier, and some encouraging news on a bond issue and that New York banks would turn $25,000,000 in gold into the Treasury. This started the crowd to buying, and a smart rally resulted, closing the market firm.

Futures—May opened at 50%c, sold off to 50%.6%c up to 51%c down to 50%c up to 51%c and closed at 51%c bid. No trading in July. Spot Grades—Buyers for Southern mills began purchasing soon after the market opened and before call had taken 37,000 bushels of No. 2 red. On call %c advance was bid by the elevator buyers—49%c for No. 2 red in United, 50c for Termina—and it was offered regular at 50c. No other grades offered regular at 50c. No other grades offered or bid for.

After call, 10,000 bushels more of No. 2 red sold for shipment South and 5,000 bushels to a local mill, making 52,000 bushels in all today.

a local mill, making 52,000 bushels in all to-day.

Samples—Received, 2 cars local. A great scarcity of offerings, but very few buyers in the market. A miller paid 51c (½c advance) for choice in warehouse and 50% for No. 2 track, this side, which cleaned out all that was for sale.

CORN—There was also an easing off in this market the first thing this morning, but the decline was only 16% and was followed by a strong, speedy recovery. All domestic markets showed strength after the early slight spell of wakness. Receipts were extremely light, aggregating 184,000 bu at Western markets—only 5,500 bu here—against 464,000 bu one year ago, and the cash demand decidedly better. Liverpool was up ½d and clearances were good.

ago, and the cash demand decidedly better. Liverpool was up ½d and clearances were good.

When wheat weakened to its low point corn was unfavorably affected, but did not touch the opening rate on the decline, and later rallied and showed firmness, closing with buyers ½c above yesterday. The closing Liverpool was ½6½d lower, but all domestic markets were firm during closing part of the session.

Futures—May opened at 40½c and sold to 40½c and at close 40½6½c bid. July sold at 40½c to die and latter asked at close. Spot grades—Offerings small on the call and some competition among speculative buyers for No. 2, which sold ½c higher regular or East side at 35c, for Terminal 35½c bid. No. 2 white was weaker, having sellers of regular at 35½c and 35c best bid, though 35½c bid Terminal. No. 2 white not offered and 37½c bid cast and 37½c bid side, 35 for Terminal. No. 3 also ½c better, at 37c bid United, 37½c asked; 37½c bid for St. L. and M., 35c for T.

Samples—Received 250 sks. 7 cars local. Only a few cars No. 2 east track offered, three selling at 35½c to 35%c, latter taken by a feeder. No samples of white on sale and market entirely nominal, but choice would bring 40½c. Skd lots on orders 446-50.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Jan. 30.—The financial statement of the Midwinter Fair has been made public. The total receipts during the entire exposition amounted to $$11,033.12, which, with $495,109 subscribed by citizens, made a grand total of $1,280,112.10. The total gate receipts were $503,507.94. Concessions, privileges, etc., brought in $271,282,93. For amusements, $113,740.83 were expended. The total cost of the exposition was $1,193,282.93. Subtracting the disbursements, liabilities amounting to about $39,000 and money expended for collections for the museum, this leaves a surplus of $32,464.4. The donations to the park of the Fine Arts Building, Royal Pavilion, statuary, etc., are valued at $121,-218.45.

The Stormy Path of a Reverend Reformer in Chicago.

WHY DR. MARTYN AND HIS PLOCK AND PARTING COMPANY.

Is Said That the Presbyterian Preach er's Sermons Were Much Too "Real istic" to Suit His South Side Congressation.

CHICAGO, Ill., Jan. 30.—Rev. Dr. Carlos Martyn, who recently resigned the pastorate of the aristocratic Sixth Presbyterian Church, is finding many rocks in his path in donnection with his work as a reformer. The trouble has been brewing for months, and the climax came last Sunday, when Dr. Martyn, still the actual, salaried pastor of the church, failed to attend the morning service, which was conducted by Rev. William Pierson Morrill of Trinity Presbyterian Church, Philadelphia, who has been called to Dr. Martyn's pulpit. As a result of what they consider an afront to Mr. Morrill and their society, it is said to have been intimated to Dr. Martyn that it will be perfectly agreeable to his parishomers if he will continue to remain away. Feeling runs high in the vicinity of the handsome house of worship at Vincennes avenue and Thirty-sixth street.

In the opinion of many of those opposed to him, the preacher was most unhappy in his choice of topics. They did not wish their wives and daughters to go to church to hear about the vice and degeneracy of Custom-house place, of Armour avenue and the Levee district discussed, even if it was denounced. They wanted a minister who held himself more closely to an exposition of the doctrines of the Christian religion in his public talks. The dissatisfaction continued, but Dr. Martyn continued in the course he marked out for himself, and his sermons became more violent week by week.

That portion of his ficek not in sympathy with Dr. Martyn began to openly suggest his resignation, and finally, within two years of his "call" to the Sixth Presbyterian pulpit, he did ask the Board of Trustees to relieve him. Whether he was formally requested to quit could not be ascertained. Dr. Martyn will, however, continue to draw his salary as pastor until May 1, though he expects to be relieved from active duty before March I.

The reverend doctor, when interviewed, was inclined to make light of the trouble that led to his resignation, and the lat

COMMERCIAL CRIME

Adolph Sutro Lays Bare Pacific Railway Corruption.

NEW YORK, Jan. 30.-The lobbies for and against the extension of the Pacific Rail-way's time of settlement with the Government are now in Washington working ac-tively. Their strength is such that consideration of financial questions of greater imdition to the literature of the battle is the following letter written by the re-form Mayor of San Francisco, a millionaire who won office by his fight against the Pacific franchise grabbers:

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 29, 1895. If the true history of the Pacific railroads and the iniquities connected therewith were written it would form a record probably never equalled in the annals of commercia never equalicant the annuals of commercial crime. From the day the first Pacific Railroad bill passed Congress the beneficiaries inaugurated a system of cheating the Government and robbing the people that has been carried on till the present day. Among the results are the general destruction of prosperity in California, the failure of farmers, and the decrease and almost cessation of manufactories and the truin of tobbing of manufactories and the ruin of jobbin ers, and the decrease and almost cessation of manufactories and the rule of jobbling houses and merchants.

This is not all. The evil influence of these unscrupulous men has brought about a condition of social affairs which has probably never been seen in any other State of the Union. Corruption and bribery have wielded a high hand, and the example set by those men rolling in their ill-gotten wealth has been destructive of honor and honesty in the rising generation.

They have corrupted our judiciary; they have corrupted our Legislature, and they have corrupted our Legislature, and they have corrupted our Legislature, and they have corrupted Congress. They have, by espionage, intimidated and made cowards of our merchants. They have by the power of money managed to control public opinion, and they have lowered our standards as citizens of the United States.

All this evil has been brought about by the Southern Pacific of Kentucky's monopoly of the carrying trade. Its constant aim has been to extort in freights and fares all that the traffic would bear. In order to maintain their monopoly they managed to kill all incipient projects for competing railroads. They also subsidized for many years the Pacific Mail Steamship Company, and they grasped the control of even a sailing ship around Cape Horn. The Southern Pacific magnates have stripped the Central Pacific of everything it possessed, turned it to their own peckets.

As security to the United States Govern-

Pacific magnates have stripped the central Pacific of everything it possessed, turned it to their own use and put the proceeds in their own pockets.

As security to the United States Government they have, to use their own language, left nothing behind but two streaks of rust from the Missourit to the Pacific, and now they have the hardihood to ask for fifty years extension to pay their debt, their real purpose being to get a release from their personal liability, the only security the Government possesses.

The people of California protest, and the protest has been signed by over 200,000 voters against any kind of refund. Driven to the wall, almost in despair, our people have appealed to Congress to spare them from this fatal blow. If the said Reilly or a similar funding bill became a law it means despotism and slavery for the people of this coast and the annihilation of their wellbeing, for it will put into the hands of C. P. Huntington and his crew the power of destroying competition and will deliver California to their brutal rapacity.

This man Huntington has spent his life in bribing and corrupting boards of supervisors, State Legislators and Congress. His own letters prove the statement. He is in Washington now determined and boastful that the United States Congress shall pass this funding bill, which will release him and his partners from the personal liability to which under the constitution of California they are clearly subject.

If Congress passes this bill it wrests from the United States Government what little security if has now in the private fortunes of the four railroad magnates. It seems incredible that such a measure can be passed by almost open bribery and corruption, and the men who vote for it should be held up to the scorn of the whole United States, as in California they will be deemed infamous forever.

was the cause of the two men coming together on an east-bound passenger train on which both were passengers, gives an interesting recital of the affair.

Mr. Ingalls was on his way to Texas on a lecturing tour, while Sullivan was coming to Kansas City with his theatrical company to fill an engagement. The ex-Sonator had been admiring Sullivan's physique, and upon learning his identity immediately evinced great interest and desired to meet him. Ralph Ingalls contrived to bring the two famous men together. They clasped hands and indulged in a hearty shake.

"I am pleased to meet you, Mr. Sullivan," said Mr. Ingalls. "I have heard much of you, and admired your remarkable pugilistic prowess."

"It affords me great pleasure to meet you, Senator Ingalls," answered Sullivan. "I have read many of your speeches in the Senate, and I have always considered you one of the greatest men of this country."

Mr. Ingalls said he would like to feel of Mr. Sullivan's strong right arm which had put many opponents to sleep, and hoped Mr. Sullivan's strong right arm which had put many opponents to sleep, and hoped Mr. Sullivan's strong right arm which had put many opponents to sleep, and hoped Mr. Sullivan's row of the great expanse of inspertment.

Mr. Sullivan declared that it would afford him great pleasure, and immediately pulled off his coat and extended his arm for Mr. Ingalls exclaimed: "I don't wonder that you licked so many men and held the world's championship so long, with those powerful arms and that massive, sturdy frame."

"John," he continued, laying his hand gently upon Mr. Sullivan's shoulder, "why don't you enter the ring again and try to with the championship from Corbett?"

"For the same reason, I guess, that you did not enter the ring again and try to with the championship from Corbett?"

The two men, who had become the center of an interested group of passengers, conversed till the train reached the Union Depot. At parting Sullivan presented his picture to Mr. Ingalis, and each shook hands with the hope that they might soon meet again.

WAS IT DYNAMITE?

Experts Investigate the Cause of the Mendota Brewery Explosion.

MENDOTA, III., Jan. 30 .- So many flicting stories are in circulation as to the C. Henning & Sons, of this city, that the coroner's jury determined to investigate Christian Henning, senior member of the firm, said he did not believe the disaster was caused by the bursting of a boiler, as the havoc occassioned was entirely great to come from that source. Frank Henning, who was slightly injured in the wreck, believes that the disaster was aused by dynamite. He did not believe caused by dynamite. He did not believe that the heavy ice engine, weighing upwards of twenty tons, could have been completely overturned, anchorage and all, and then shattered to pieces simply by the explosion of the boilers. He did not believe that the ground would have been rent by a boiler explosion.

He is borne out in this opinion by two expert boiler inspectors from Chicago and one from La Salle who have been at work on the matter the last two days. Some of the facts discovered by the latter have caused a decided sensation, particularly among the relatives and friends of the killed and injured as well as those of the brewery owners. Mr. Henning would not say whether he thought the dynamite was placed in the brewery by design or whether it was being used by the well diggers.

LEAVENWORTH, Kan., Jan. 3).—The suit of Charles F. Johnson of Topeka against Leslie E. Keeley, the gold-cure doctor, was brought up for trial to-day.

The plaintiff slaims that he took the treatment, which did not cure him of his appetite for strong drink, and that it had permanently ruined his health. A motion was made by the plaintiff's attorney asking the Court to compel Keeley to testify as to the ingredients of his gold cure. The arguments on the motion took up the entire day, and the question was taken under advisement by Judge Meyers.
